The CP Family Newsletter is Back (and we missed you!)

At CPFN we are committed to our community, and the community has spoken. It's been a long time in the making, but we're starting up our newsletter again and we're thrilled! We've got lots of great things coming your way including inspirational stories, informational articles, helpful guides, and more.

We also want to hear from YOU! If you have a story you'd like to share, a question you'd like answered, or an idea for an article you'd like to read, make sure to email us at Lee@cpfamilynetwork.org.

LEGAL

Medical Malpractice and Preventable Cerebral Palsy

Estimates are that 20% of cerebral palsy cases are caused by a lack of oxygen during the birthing process. Many of these cases are caused by medical negligence or malpractice, and hospitals probably will not inform parents that their child's cerebral palsy was caused by medical error.

JUNE CP HERO

Say Hi to Tony

Meet #CPHero, Tony, who recently survived COVID-19. Tony has lissencephaly and cerebral palsy, and doctors said he wouldn't live past age 2, but he's now 26 and thriving. When he contracted the coronavirus, doctors again warned he may not make it, but he's been beating the odds his entire life and wasn't going to stop now!
